WELCOME DAY
MS/PhD and MPH Prospective Students
March 26, 2012

Morning

7:30  Registration (Pyle Center, 620 Langdon Street)
8:00  Welcome and Roundtable Breakfast (Alumni Lounge)
Meet and mingle with faculty, staff and current students. Full breakfast provided.
Patrick Remington, MD, MPH
Associate Dean for Public Health
Javier Nieto, MD, PhD, MPH
Chair, Department of Population Health Sciences

9:30  UW-Madison Welcome Presentation (Alumni Lounge)
Visitor and Information Programs

10:15 Prospective Student Breakout Sessions (TBD)
MS/PhD, and MPH staff will share key program information and a panel of core faculty will be available for Q&A.

11:15 Badger Trolley
Begin boarding the Badger Trolley for a trip to the Health Sciences Learning Center.

11:30 Lunch (HSLC Atrium)
Boxed lunches will be available to pick up prior to the Alumni Lecture.
Prospective students will meet with their student hosts.

Afternoon

12:00 Philip M. Farrell Population Health Distinguished Alumni Lecture (1325 HSLC)
Christopher T. Sempos, PhD,
Director, Population Studies Program, Office of Dietary Supplements,
National Institutes of Health

1:00 Presentation of Poster Session Awards (1325 HSLC)

1:05 – 3:00 10th Annual Department of Population Health Sciences Poster Session (HSLC Atrium)
Poster session viewing – students, staff and faculty presenters will be available for discussion and to answer questions about their current public health research. Snacks and refreshments provided.

MPH Course: Health Systems, Management & Policy (1345 HSLC)
Experience your life as a current student by sitting in on this required MPH course, taught by Director, Tom Oliver, PhD, MHA. Class runs from 1:15 – 2:30 pm.

MS/PhD Faculty Advising Meetings (Various)

MPH Advising Meetings available by request (HSLC Atrium)

3:00 Wrap-up and Good-bye