Health Disparities/Health Equity Tenure-Track Faculty Position

The California State University, Fullerton, Department of Public Health invites applications for a full-time tenure-track faculty position in Health Disparities/Health Equity.

Qualifications
The appointee must have:
• An earned doctorate in public health or related field by time of appointment;
• A commitment to providing high-quality undergraduate and graduate education and demonstrated ability to teach courses related to health disparities/health equity to students from diverse backgrounds, including first-generation college students;
• Focused ongoing scholarly and creative activity in health promotion, disease prevention, and/or intervention research with the goal of addressing or ameliorating health disparities and/or improving health of women, racial/ethnic minorities, persons with lower socioeconomic status, immigrant populations, or sexual minorities. Persons conducting research on health justice or global health equity with implications to U.S. populations are encouraged to apply;
• A demonstrated record of publications and presentations and demonstrated potential for obtaining grants and external funding;
• The ability to create and maintain research ties with diverse communities;
• The potential for leadership activities in professional associations and the surrounding community; and
• The ability to work collegially in a multicultural environment with a culturally diverse faculty, staff, students, and community.

Application Deadline
Review of applications will begin November 19, 2018. Position is open until filled.

Appointment Date
August 2019

Application Procedure
For detailed information, please go to: http://hr.fullerton.edu/diversity/job-openings/ft/10495BR_health_disparities.asp

A background check (including a criminal record check) must be completed satisfactorily before any candidate can be offered a position with the CSU. Failure to satisfactorily complete the background check may affect application status of applicants or continued employment for current CSU employees who apply for the position.

Why CSU Fullerton?
Ranked among nation’s top 25 “Most Innovative Schools” and listed in “National Universities” (U.S. News and World Report, September 2017)
No. 5 in the nation for baccalaureate degrees awarded to minority students (Diverse Issues in Higher Education, August 2017)
Among top 12% of “Best Colleges for Your Money” (Money, August 2018)
No. 1 in California and No. 2 in the nation among top colleges and universities awarding bachelor’s degrees to Hispanics, based on data from the U.S. Department of Education (Hispanic Outlook in Higher Education, August 2017)
Faculty members were awarded $26 million in grants and contracts for research and scholarly activities in 2016-17.

Use of High Impact Practices – designed exclusively for engaging students
Hub of creativity in Orange County – More than 400 performances in theater and dance, music, and the visual arts annually