GLOBAL HEALTH EXPERIENCES

Terry R., Brown L.T. I joined Dr. Raymond Terry for a learning journey to Haiti from November 7-11 in 2016 with a group of several students and faculty from Morgan State University. We briefly visited Port-au-Prince but spent more of our time in Cap Hatien. We discussed how we could work with a group of folks to utilize skills of people from a variety of backgrounds. We briefly visited a Haitian hospital in Cap Hatien and spoke with the executive director who was open to working with the team from Morgan State on creating a public health effort in conjunction with the hospital’s preventative medicine unit.

From June 22 to July 1, we made our second trip to Haiti to explore opportunities for health collaboration and partnerships in the cities of Saint Marc, Deschapelles, Les Cayes, and Gonaïves. We met with several mayors of said cities and visited the Albert Schwitzer hospital, two health clinics under construction (in Saint Marc and Lanzac), and the public university of Antibonite in Gonaïves.

Brown, L.T. Special Studies in Global Health. Developed the course content and syllabus for the course that was offered for the first time in the Spring 2014 semester. I have taught the course in the spring semesters since then.

Terry R., Brown L.T. Joined Dr. Raymond Terry for the Honduran Health Care Experiential Learning Journey. From July 22 to July 29 in 2013, a group of several students and faculty from Morgan State University and Howard University visited 7 health care clinics in cities ranging from Porta Cortes to Muchilena to a village near the Guatemalan border. Along with clinic visits, we spent time examining stark differences in a private hospital vs. a public hospital in Porta Cortes. We gained insights into the way men interact with the Honduran health care system and learned about the proliferation of government corruption and its impact on health care.

Rowel, R., Brown L.T. Global Health Studies: Faculty and Student Experiences beyond Our Borders. Co-organizer of session inviting Dr. Raymond Terry to campus to discuss Honduran Health Care Experiential Learning Journey, along with faculty and students who visited Haiti in 2013. November 20, 2013.
