
Spring 2019

- Chair's Note: PHS Welcomes new Assistant Professor
 - Brad Astor Promoted to Full Professor
 - Population Health Sciences in JAMA
 - New HIP xChange toolkits
 - Alumna Megan Zuelsdorff Awarded R03
 - SHOW Update- Kristen Malecki named New PI
 - Student Success- Amy Schultz
-

Chair's Note: PHS Welcomes New Assistant Professor, Mariétou Ouayogodé

Mariétou Ouayogodé will join the Department of Population Health Sciences as Assistant Professor on August 1st.

Read More

Mariétou Ouayogodé

Brad Astor Promoted to Full Professor

Congratulations to Brad Astor on his promotion to Full Professor. Dr. Astor holds a joint appointment in the Departments of Medicine and Population Health Sciences.

Read More

Brad Astor

Population Health Sciences in JAMA

The Department was featured in the Journal of the American Medical Association's article on The Emergence of Population Health in US Academic Medicine with invited commentary from Professor Emeritus David Kindig.

Read More

David Kindig

New HIP xChange Toolkits

The Health Innovation Program (HIP) has released two new toolkits: a chlorhexidine gluconate (CHG) bathing treatments toolkit to prevent healthcare-associated infections, and a Mammo OUTPuT tool to aid decision-making about mammography screening.

Read More

CHG bathing treatments prevent healthcare-associated infections

Megan Zuelsdorff Awarded R03

Congratulations to Megan Zuelsdorff, UW-Madison Population Health PhD alumna, on the successful application for an NIH R03 funding award.

Read More

Megan Zuelsdorff

SHOW Update: Kristen Malecki to Lead SHOW as PI

Kristen Malecki has been named the new Principal Investigator of the Survey of the Health of Wisconsin (SHOW).

SHOW is the only statewide health examination survey and research infrastructure of its kind; with data on over 5,400 adult and 800 children residents and built a state-of-the-art biorepository.

Read More

Kristen Malecki

Student Success: Amy Schultz

Epidemiology PhD Student, Amy Schultz, is a leading research assistant on a project funded by the UW2020 initiative, “CREATE: Cumulative Risks, Early Development, and Emerging Academic Trajectories”. This project seeks to identify sources of stress in pre-school aged children.

Amy Schultz

Read More

Population Health Institute | School of Medicine & Public Health | SHOW | HIP

Population Health Sciences

610 Walnut St, Madison, WI | 608.263.2880 | pophealth@mailplus.wisc.edu

Contact Us

Do you have a newsworthy accomplishment to share?

Please send specific details and related photos to Rosalind Bendix-Lewis

Give a Gift

To make a contribution to the Graduate Program for student educational purposes, please click here